The 2021 elections for the Aboriginal Land Council of Tasmania are being run by the Tasmanian Electoral Commissioner.

The contact person for this election is Sarah Mathews.

What is the Land Council (ALCT)?

The Land Council was established in 1995 to hold and manage returned land on behalf of the Tasmanian Aboriginal community. While the Land Council manages some Aboriginal land areas, it mostly delegates to other Aboriginal organisations (eg TAC or CBIAA) to manage Aboriginal land.

ALCT is made up of 8 members, representing 5 electoral areas. They are elected for a 3 year term.

How are you involved?

As a person on the ALCT Roll, you can vote for someone to represent you on the Land Council.

A voting pack will be mailed to you in early June.

Want to be on the Land Council?

As someone on the Roll, you can also nominate to be a member of the Land Council for the electoral area where you live.

How?

- 1 Complete a nomination form (enclosed).
- 2 Get the form to the Electoral Commissioner before 12 noon on Friday 21 May, 2021.

For more information, contact Sarah at the Tasmanian Electoral Commission - www.tec.tas.gov.au/ALCT or 1800 801 701.
